We can see the signs of Spring everywhere now! The flowers at school are blooming! I remember the kids were so excited when they found the small buds in early March. I planted the Hyacinths which we grew in our classrooms, enjoying their scent. I hope we can see them when they come up again next year.

Dandelions, Dandelions, Dandelions!

Every year, our school play area's covered with dandelions! Kids use as playing food, making necklace or rings, using as a straw for blowing bubbles and just love to pick a lot of them for their Mom! When kids are picking dandelions, they are so full of happiness! Once they turn to fluff, kids run around the field to find them and blow! In U.S., dandelions are not welcomed in your yard, but for kids, dandelions are one of the big signs of Spring and playful flowers!

Your kid(s) will be picking dandelions sooner or later and you might see them on your dining table. They will start wilting, but just keep them: then you will see how they change from flower to fluffs together!

Side Walk Chalk is Fun!

Your kids might have already drawn with chalk on your porch or driveway. We used to play at school, too! Don't worry even if you don't have any chalk. You can make the chalk paints easily!

You need the same amount of the corn starch and water. Just mix well together. You can add food color if desired. You can use paint brushes or craft (paint) sponges. When the paints dry, they look like they were drawn with regular chalk!
